gresley s a4 pacifics are arguably the most famous locomotives ever built a status cemented by mallard s record breaking run on the 3rd july 38 and yet only a year later the glamorous streaks seemed likely to be cast into obscurity by the coming of another world war so for only four exhilarating years they were allowed to flourish as their creator had intended and in that time captured the imagination of railwaymen and public alike with the help of previously unpublished material the author analyses the complex evolution of the a4s a project that began in 1911 when gresley was appointed as locomotive superintendent of the great northern railway it is a story with many strands to consider war peace and war again engineering and art politics and business recession and social change the growth of the media and consumerism the struggle for professional reputations and a growing deeply damaging international rivalry all these elements are captured in the story of the a4s in the heady days before conflict ended their brief golden age and gresley s life came to an end evolutionary computation techniques have attracted increasing attention in recent years for solving complex optimization problems they are more robust than traditional methods based on formal logics or mathematical programming for many real world or ms problems evolutionary computation techniques can deal with complex optimization problems better than traditional optimization techniques however most papers on the application of evolutionary computation techniques to operations research management science or ms problems have scattered around in different journals and conference proceedings they also tend to focus on a very special and narrow topic it is the right time that an archival book series publishes a special volume which includes critical reviews of the state of art of those evolutionary computation techniques which have been found particularly useful for or ms problems and a collection of papers which represent the latest development in tackling various or ms problems by evolutionary computation techniques this special volume of the book series on evolutionary optimization aims at filling in this gap in the current literature the special volume consists of invited papers written by leading searchers in the field all papers were peer reviewed by at least two recognised reviewers the book covers the foundation as well as the practical side of evolutionary optimization
